FREE FROM PAIN AND WITHOUT A STRUGGLE

EX-PRESIDENT HARRISON GOES OUT INTO THE UNKNOWN TO MEET HIS MAKER.

son And Daughter Away From Home and Did not Reach City Until After Father's Demise.

Funeral Took Place Sunday—His Former Cabinet Were Pall-Bearers.

BENJAMIN HARRISON.

At 4:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon the life of General Harrison went out. He was a great statesman, a man that had held the highest position within the gift of the people, known and honored by all reasonable men at home and abroad. News spread with the lightning flash the world over. The United States from her executive home down through the varied avenues of life put on mourning because of illustrious dead. He was indeed a great man, a leader, a man of ideas, a statesman, a hero. Not a partisan in any sense. Such as he attain to greatness and few are the number.

CHILDREN NOT PRESENT.

None of Gen. Harrison's children was present at his death. Neither Col. Russell Harrison nor Mrs. McCormick had reached the city, although both were hurrying on their way to the bedside of their dying parent as fast as steam would bear them.

PATHETIC.

The General's little Elizabeth was brought into the sick room for a few moments to see her father and offered him a small apple pie which she herself had made. Gen. Harrison smiled his recognition of the child and her gift, but the effort to speak was too much, and he could do nothing more to express his appreciation.

THE FUNERAL.

The funeral of ex-President Har-

United States from 1889 to 1893, died yesterday at his home in Indianapolis. In his death the country has been deprived of one of its dearest citizens. A brilliant soldier in his young manhood, he gained fame and rapid advancement by his energy and valor. As a lawyer he rose to be a leader of the bar. In the Senate he at once took and retained high rank as an orator and legislator, and in the high office of President he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen.

In testimony of the respect in which his memory is held by the Government and people of the United States, I do hereby direct that the flags on the Executive Mansion and the several departmental buildings be displayed at half-staff for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, under the orders of the Secretaries of War and Navy be rendered on the day of the funeral.

Done at the City of Washington this fourteenth day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and one, and in the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and twenty-fifth.

WILLIAM MCKINLEY.

By the President.

JOHN HAY, Secretary of War.

Kentucky Republican leaders have been assured that Bradley will be Judge, Tinsley District Attorney and Steve Sharp Marshal in the Eastern Kentucky district. Mr. Yerkes is said to be over the defeat of Cochran, his candidate for Judge.

The Committee on Foreign Relations of the Cuban constitutional convention has not outlined any policy on the Platt amendment, and there is no unanimity in the convention as to the action to be taken.

U. C. T. A. Branch.

Owensboro business men have taken preliminary steps to organize a branch of the United Commercial Travelers' Association of America.

In Trigg County J. H. Ballard was shot from ambush, his arm being torn to pieces by a charge of shot. William S. Rich has been arrested, charged with the crime.

Rufus Cumming Garland, a son of former Attorney General A. H. Garland, died at Fort Worth, Tex., Sunday. He had won some fame as a musical composer.

Rear Admiral Schley has been detached from the command of the South Atlantic station and ordered home. Rear Admiral Cromwell will succeed him.

I am exceedingly moved by the intelligence of Mr. Harrison's death, for, notwithstanding the late discouraging reports of his condition, I hoped his life might yet be spared. Not one of our countrymen should for a moment fail to realize the services which have been performed in their behalf by the distinguished dead. In high public office he was guided by patriotism and devotion to duty, often at the sacrifice of temporary popularity, and in private station his influence and example were always in the direction of decency and good citizenship. Such a career and the incidents related to it should leave a deep and useful impression upon every section of our national life."

President's Proclamation

Executive Mansion, Washington,

D. C., March 14, 1901.—To the People of the United States: Benjamin Harrison, President of the United States from 1889 to 1893, died yesterday at his home in Indianapolis. In his death the country has been deprived of one of its dearest citizens. A brilliant soldier in his young manhood, he gained fame and rapid advancement by his energy and valor. As a lawyer he rose to be a leader of the bar. In the Senate he at once took and retained high rank as an orator and legislator, and in the high office of President he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen.

GENERAL HARRISON.

Man of Wealth, Temperate Habits,
Attentive to Business

And Received Big Fees For Able
And Watchful Labor.

Gen. Harrison was worth about $300,000, represented in fortunate real estate investments in Indianapolis and stock in banking and trust concerns. His law practice since he left the White House has been confined largely to arguing questions of law before the United States Court of Appeals and the United States Supreme Court, where several of his cases are now pending. His only jury trial was the famous Morrison will case at Richmond, Ind.

The most important case in which he was engaged since he was President was the Venezuela boundary case. He was easily the master mind before that tribunal, although his victory was not as complete as he had hoped.

SOME BIG FEES.

Gen. Harrison's recent practice was lucrative. For his lectures at Leland Stanford University, he received $10,000. In the litigation of the Citizens' Street Railroad Company of Indianapolis over its franchise he, as counsel for the company, received $25,000. His fee in the Morrison will case was $20,000. His fee in the Venezuela case was $100,000, but it is understood the republic of Venezuela still owes a considerable part of that sum.

HIS GOOD HABITS.

The ex President was always a man of correct habits. He smoked an average of three cigars a day—always of the best quality—and when he felt so inclined imbibed moderately of wine. He liked to hunt and fish but of late years was more given to quail hunting than any other sport. He always wrote his legal notes with a stub of a pencil not over two inches long and he pressed on it so hard it seemed he would drive it through the paper.

ONCE IN A VIOLENT RAGE.

The only time he was known to be in a violent rage was when ghouls stole the body of his father from the cemetery at North Bend. O. He rescued it from a medical college at Cincinnati. As a lawyer he probably had no peer in America. He was thorough in preparing his cases, and his particular forte was the cross-examination of witnesses. If a witness were the least untruthful Mr. Harrison would soon "wind him up" as the lawyers say. His soul was wrapped up in his little daughter Elizabeth, and recently when she was sick he sat up with her and told her fairy story by the hour. He loved children and they loved him.

LEW WALLACE HIS FRIEND.

One of his dearest friends was Lew Wallace, the famous author, who said: "His death will excite a feeling of regret, not only over the United States but in every country of Europe. The people there outside of political circles are as familiar almost with him as his fellow citizens of this country. There, as here, he is understood to be an upright man, a lover of justice and peace, in whose judgment the world rested, thinking it a security against wars and internal troubles of every kind. They knew him to be a patriot, but respected him for his qualities as a man of the world. We may be sure every expression of grief uttered in America will find its echo in Europe."—Courier Journal.

Pat McDonald, the widely known Democratic politician and newspaper man, died at Frankfort last Thursday.

Representative.

The Democrats of Nelson county have nominated Eli H. Brown for Representative.

Col. Wm. Carey Sanger has been appointed Assistant Secretary of War over the protests of Senators Platt and Depew, of New York.

POWER OF NIAGARA.

Runs, Lights and Heats the Pan-American Exposition.

In the central station of the Niagara Falls Power company there are huge dynamos in operation, each of which generates 5,000 electrical horse power. Thus under the roof of this magnificent building is a total development of 50,000 horse power, which is said to be the largest amount of electricity generated under a single roof in the world. Ground for this remarkable power plant was broken on October 4, 1890, and the ten years that have passed since then have witnessed a wonderful development. When the idea was projected a few were bold enough to predict that in time the western New York locality would be benefited by the transmission of the power, but the extent of this benefit was, of course, left to the imagination. Even then, perhaps, the prediction was based more upon hope than upon expectation. However, the closing years of the nineteenth century witnessed a development that has commanded the attention of the entire world. From one of the great power stations at Niagara falls the transmission cables have stretched out over the intervening miles, and Buffalo long since was brought in close touch with the rapid-whirling generators that turn night and day under the influence of the mighty turbines activated by the never-failing supply of water from the reservoir formed by the upper great lakes.

There was no thought of holding a great exposition on the Niagara frontier, but when the plan of the Pan-American exposition was conceived, it was quickly recognized that the presence of Niagara electrical energy would be a wonderful factor in the success of the exposition. Day after day, as the plans of the exposition have been developed, the value of the transmitted force from Niagara has become so pronounced in connection with the Pan American exposition that its application and use in various ways is destined to be a leading feature of the exposition. Visitors to the exposition will marvel at the electrical effects. They will see the transmitted energy of Niagara used for light, heat and power purposes in the very latest lamps and apparatus.

Those who journey down the lakes to Buffalo by boat may know that possibly the very water that floated their vessel into Buffalo's beautiful harbor hurried on down the river to the falls to aid in operating the turbines and dynamos from which the electric current is derived for the illumination of the buildings and grounds of the exposition. In the effort to outdo the world in the electrical features of the Pan-American Exposition, Niagara Falls and Buffalo have joined hands, and what will be accomplished is not mere conjecture, but is fast becoming reality.

The time is on us now for an electric railway from Sharpsburg to Mt. Sterling. The master rests entirely with our people. Shall we have it?

With the completion of the water plant a large tannery expects to locate here. By inducements offered by our people other enterprises can be brought here.

Do the people of Mt. Sterling and Montgomery county want a first-class College? They can get it by a small donation from each individual; one that would bring 300 or 400 boys and girls to our city.

Masonic Jubilee at Louisville has promise of being the best. Almost $100,000 has been raised and delegates will get the very best entertainment free of cost. Such is Kentucky hospitality. So may it ever be.

One may suggest, but he cannot alone both suggest and execute that which is the interest of many. If we would have Mt. Sterling to have a quick growth, to broaden in accordance with her enterprise, it must be done by an organized effort.

Republicans all over the country are glad for any disaffection among Democrats, and they both invite and encourage it, but Democrats are not going to fall out among themselves like they have been, because the profit alone is to that party whose doctrines are detrimental to the country.

If reports are true, the Garrard-White feud of Clay county will soon be a thing of the past. This and similar feuds have brought great reproach to our State and have been very expensive. The Sheriff, Rev. White, has resigned and will move to Winchester. We sincerely hope that Clay county will now enter upon an era of uninterrupted peace, happiness and honor.

Benjamin Harrison, ex-President of the United States, is dead, leaving us who have fasted of the rich diet that comes from the people's highest gift—Grover Cleveland and William McKinley. Because of this taking away heads are bowed and hearts are sad. Harrison was a great statesman and his name will go down to history as a President who tried to do right fearless of the multitudes.

"I am very dry," said an old inflamed-faced, red-nosed taper to one of our candidates, and when drink was refused him he informed him he would lose many votes. That candidate was right. If any candidate buys his nomination or election by money or with intoxicants he is not the choice of a free people, and while candidates may think the road to success is through the bar room they are badly mistaken. The sober voters—the reform element—don't propose to support the man who frequents the bar room. They don't believe any man who drinks is competent to fill our offices, neither are they willing that our money go through our incumbents to the support of the whisky traffic. They are exactly right.

BROAD.

The Critic, published at Louisville, thus expresses our sentiments: "The Democratic policy should be toward broadening the party platform. The old pillars of Democracy should be welcomed home. Men who have not yet renounced the name of Democracy should be encouraged to return to the parent wing. Only Republicans in name as well as action should be excluded from the party councils."

You church people, what do you think of this? A member of a church with distinct doctrines, founded on the scriptures, as they believe, moving into a neighborhood where there is a religious organization of entirely different doctrines and members of that congregation visiting the new comer saying during the day, come join our church, and in earnest insisting on such course. This may be considered nice by some people, but to us it looks this way: You have not mind enough to know what you believe or you are void of conscience. This union with them would add to their numbers, increase their treasure fund, and that would be all the use the proselitizers would have for them. Such conduct is insulting. To persuade people their doctrines are not scriptural would be all right; and all people should ever be ready to discuss questions of differences. Search the scriptures and be a member of that church whose doctrines are founded thereon and then be firm in the faith.

Bazel Green School.

Rev. H. D. Clark is at home from Hazel Green. In regard to the school there he says: "It is a good one with one hundred and thirty boarders and two hundred and sixty in the school. The mountain people are very much interested along educational lines, the exception being those who have accumulated much wealth there. Of these one hundred and thirty boarders thirty are school teachers making better preparations for their work." How hard it is for the rich man to enter the Kingdom whether he goes from the mountains, the bluegrass or the peneplain. Remember the lesson of one, give riches, the other knowledge.

Cloverport Destroyed by Fire.

On Thursday night the town of Cloverport, Ky., on the Ohio river below Louisville, was destroyed by fire caused by the explosion of natural gas which escaped through a rubber tube in a kitchen. In all 72 stores, residences, churches, schools, and stables, hotels, etc., went. Much household goods carried into the streets was burned, as a heavy wind spread the flames rapidly. Only one business house escaped. The surrounding country and cities contributed liberally to feed and cloth the destitute.

In view of the effort being made by the owners of the lumber carrying vessels on the great lakes to effect a combination with the purpose of maintaining rates, it is perhaps interesting, as illustrating the scope of this inland commerce, to note that lumber shipments were made during the season from 39 of the 37 ports, the commerce of which the bureau of statistics kept a record, receipts being recorded at an equal number of ports. The total receipts aggregated 2,129,403 thousand feet.

BURIED IN WOOLEN.

Curious Way England Once Took to Dispose of Linen Importations.

In 1679 an act was passed requiring the dead to be buried in woolen, the purpose being, says Chambers' Journal, to lessen "the importation of linen from beyond the seas and the encouragement of the wooden and paper manufacturers of this kingdom."

A penalty of five pounds sterling was inflicted for a violation of this act; and as frequently people preferred to be buried in linen, a record of the same appears—for example, at Gayton, Northamptonshire, where we find in the register: "1708. Mrs. Dorothy Bellington, was buried April 5, in Linnen, and the forfeiture of the Act paid, fifty shillings to ye informer and fifty shillings to the poor of the parish."

Pope wrote the following lines on the burial of Mrs. Oldfield, the actress, with reference to this custom:

"Odious! in woolen! Twond a saint pro-voke!"

(Over the last words poor Narcissus spoke.)

"No! in a charming chintz and Brussels lace."

Wrap my cold limbs and shade my lifeless face."

BETWEEN LAKE PORTS.

Movements of the Great Lakes of Commerce.

According to the figures secured by the bureau of statistics, there were received by vessels at the 37 principal ports on the great lakes, between April 1, 1900, and the close of the year, a total of 1,266,334 tons of flour; 52,834,256 bushels of wheat; 70,805,801 bushels of corn; 33,290,767 bushels of oats; 11,326,501 bushels of barley, and 1,840,893 bushels of rye. These figures relate purely to the movements between United States ports, and do not, therefore, include the shipments to or from ports on the Canadian side of the canal or through the Welland canal. The great bulk of the grain traffic originated at Chicago and Duluth and had Buffalo as its point of destination. So far as can be deduced from the discrepancy between the figures representative of shipments and receipts, respectively, after making allowance for the grain in storage on vessels both at the beginning and close of the season, and their shipments from small ports not included in the season's compilation, the movement of grain via the Canadian water routes did not reach the proportions which had been predicted for it.

The receipts of iron ore by water at the ports embraced in the bureau's compilation reached a total of 16,268,027 tons, and this may be accepted as about 85 per cent. of the entire movement of iron ore both by rail and water. All the principal ore receiving and shipping ports are covered by the bureau's statement. Of the 16,268,027 tons handled, 15,843,681 tons are shown to have been shipped from the six ports of Two Harbors, Duluth, Escanaba, Ashland, Marquette and West Superior, and 13,625,609 tons were received at the six ports of Ashtabula, Cleveland, Conneaut, South Chicago, Buffalo and Erie—a remarkable exemplification of the extent to which the iron ore traffic is concentrated.

Many different classes of commodities, such as provisions, dry goods and hardware are reported under the general head of classified freight.

This movement at the principal lake ports during the past year reached the aggregate of 1,371,131 tons. In this traffic the city of Chicago led, with 842,291 tons. The receipts at other ports were: Buffalo, 668,831 tons; Cleveland, 275,673 tons; Detroit, 234,482 tons, and Milwaukee, 325,124 tons.

In view of the effort being made by the owners of the lumber carrying vessels on the great lakes to effect a combination with the purpose of maintaining rates, it is perhaps interesting, as illustrating the scope of this inland commerce, to note that lumber shipments were made during the season from 39 of the 37 ports, the commerce of which the bureau of statistics kept a record, receipts being recorded at an equal number of ports. The total receipts aggregated 2,129,403 thousand feet.

Ought They to Marry

And bring children into the world to suffer from an inherited blood taint? People do not realize it, but they do. It starts in the skin, and ends in the fire and scalding in the blood of the parent may break into flame in the flesh of the child. Dr. Herce's Golden Medical Pill, with other medicines, cures scrofula. It cures the disease from disease taints, strengthens the weak lungs, heals the diseased stomach.

"I have a doctor who has done wonders for my two sons," writes Mrs. M. Herrick, of New York, N. Y. "Both had scrofula, I have two sons, two daughters, and five years with consumption and scrofula. My oldest son was born with scrofula, and I have seen no change from the lungs. It troubled him for over a year, and he died at the age of 18. His Discovery, and has not had one in over a year. My younger son had scrofulous sores on his nose, and any doctor who has been compelled to take your medicine."

On Sunday afternoon about 4 o'clock two young men—James Bryan and James Bolson—of Bourbon county, attracted considerable attention on Main street by reckless driving. They were drunk. Their horses in a run left the street on West Main and went on the pavement, then crossed the street to the opposite pavement. One lady said she was frightened, as the runaway missed her buggy about six inches, and the young men seemed to be taking all sides of the street. There were quite a number of buggies on the street. A witness feared that they would run into a carriage hitched in front of the Christian church. These young men were promptly arrested, spent the night in jail, at nine o'clock Monday morning one of them was fined $9 for drunkenness, and the other $19 for drunkenness and reckless driving.

This may have been their first experience. We hope it will be their last.

Mt. Sterling Telephone.

Since December 1st last year the new company have been busy putting the plant into first class repair, in fact a new plant has been constructed, consisting of new poles, ranging in height from 45 to 60 feet. They will have cables extending from central to corner of Maysville & High, also to Main & Sycamore streets, 1400 feet in all, with capacity in each for 100 pairs of wires for 100 telephones. The return wire from the cable boxes will be a large copper wire. This will be a great improvement and will greatly if not entirely obviate the humming noise caused by the electric currents in use by our electric plant. To the switch board has been added a new section, giving a capacity for 300 telephones. For protection in case of storm from all electrical currents, at a large cost has been added the up-to-date invention. Many old phones have been replaced with new ones and in two weeks connections will be made over the new wires and Mt. Sterling will have as good a plant as there is anywhere, with many connections. The company will continue to make connections until theirs will be one of the first of the country. It will not be long until every phone, 300 in number, will be taken at the rate they are going.

DEATH.

[From Senator Gallinger's Recent Memorial Address on Representative Frank G. Clark, of New Hampshire, Delivered in the Senate.]

We all instinctively shrink from death, yet why should we? The physician knows that death brings a feeling of unutterable relief and joy to the poor, suffering body. Herman Melville has painted a beautiful picture of what death really is in these lines:

Micahel is not. Men have mislaid the much
Have given hard names and harsher thoughts to death.
And evilly treated me,
Built me strange temples as an offering god,
Then call'd me idol, did me no harm.
And took me to the altar, gathered down
Micahel not, nor men have marred my form
And to the earthborn a ruseless of the r'ough
They coldly modeled out of their hands
This was the last offering I made.
Micahel is not. We know not what I am,
But ye shall see me face to face and know.
I take all the time I have to live
And let me go, for I am not a boy.
And let me go, for I am not a boy.
I gather in my hand the last hope,
The shattered - castes of a ruined world,
And let me go, for I am not a boy.
To is that outstain a rapt vision,
When other leeches fall the breaking brain,
Cry out in the sun to still the face charmed with life's latest pang.
Smooth in passing with an angel's wing,
And from beneath the quiet old site,
The hidden glory of the eye-to-give

Old Age.

Old age as it comes in the orderly process of Nature is a beautiful and majestic thing. The very shadow of eclipse which threatens it, makes it the more prized. It stands for experience, knowledge, wisdom and counsel. That is old age as it should be. But old age as it so often is means nothing but a second childhood of mind and body. What makes the difference? Very largely the care of the stomach. In youth and the full strength of manhood it doesn't seem to matter how we treat the stomach. We abuse it, overwork it, injure it. We don't suffer from it much. But when age comes the stomach is worn out. It can't prepare and distribute the needed nourishment to the body, and the body, un nourished, falls into senile decay. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a wonderful medicine for old people whose stomachs are "weak" and whose digestions are "poor." Its invigorating effects are felt by mind as well as body. It takes the sting from old age, and makes old people strong.

A Cup of Good Coffee

To get a really good cup of coffee you'll have to start back of the actual making; you'll have to look to the roasting and the grinding. In ARBUCKLES' you have a coffee that's scientifically roasted, and delivered to you with all the pores of the berry hermetically sealed. You're sure of a good cup of coffee because all the coffee flavor and aroma are kept intact until you want it. The fame of ARBUCKLES' induced other coffee packers to put out imitations of it. These imitations cost the grocer (and you) a cent a pound less than ARBUCKLES'. But don't be tempted to buy a package of some other coffee when you can get for it is actually less expensive than the cheap kind; goes further—besides being better flavored, more satisfying.

You will find a list of useful articles in each issue of the Advocate. Consider. A complete copy of one of these articles becomes yours when you buy the coffee. The one you receive will list the name of the manufacturer and the address on condition that you send us to our Notion Department a certain number of signatures of customers from the wrapper.

CANCER

Sufferers from this horrible malady never always know it, nor necessarily know it at first, but may often run in the same ancestor, for Cancer often runs through several generations. This deadly poison may lay dormant in the blood for years, but when it reaches the body, even the first little sore or ulcer makes its appearance—or a swollen gland in the breast, or some other part of the body, gives the first warning.

To cure Cancer thoroughly and permanently all the poisonous virus must be eliminated from the body. This can only be done by the S. S. S. diet, and is the only medicine that can reach deep-seated, obstinate blood troubles like this. When all the poison has been forced out of the body the Cancer heals, and the disease never returns.

Cancer begins often in a small way, as the following cases will show:

A small pimple came on my face about an inch below the ear on the left side of my face. I had no idea what it was, and I did not begin to inquire and ask what it would be until a little later. Then I could see that my jaw began to swell, and I knew it was a tumor.

The Cancer began to grow, and until it was a large as a hen's egg, I did not know what it was. It was determined to give it a fair trial, and I did not know what a "good effect" it had upon me.

Then I began to examine; the sore began to heal and after taking a few bottles disappeared, and I did not know what it was. There were no signs of the Cancer, and my health continued good.

blood purifiers, and the only vegetable, Sand is all right, if you are too fat; and all wrong, if too thin already.

Fat, enough for your habits, is healthy; a little more, or less, is no great harm. Too fat, consult a doctor; too thin, persistently thin, no matter what cause, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil.

There are many causes of getting too thin; they all come under these two heads: over-work and under-digestion.

Stop over-work, if you can; but, whether you can or not, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, to balance yourself with your work. You can't live on it—true—but, by it, you can. There's a limit, however, you'll pay for it.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is the readiest cure for "can't eat," unless it comes from your doing no work—you can't be well and strong, without some sort of activity.

Counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve are liable to cause blood poisoning. Leave them alone. The original has the name DeWitt's upon it and a person would live the longest on vites or vegetables. Rite then I grabbed my hat and left the country the worst torn up piece of human flesh you ever seen. Still I was loving her to beat hens a peen but I never went back to see that girl any more. I wear afraid the next time she might run me throu a sashgrinder. The next sparkling adventure I made war among a bunch of eight sisters and I became dead struck on one about the middle of the flock. Her name was Susan Jane and as pretty as a pistol. O, my, how I loved her for one summer and we made a marig contract and when I asked the old man for her he objected and said if I would take the oldest it would be all right but he would not hav his flock of girls call out. So that knocked me sky high again. The old one est one made plenty of money. She got twenty dollars a week for acting as a comic valentine pattern. So you see when you take every thing in consideration the sparkling busines is mita scattering in most cases. You may succeed and you may not. The best way to capture a pretty wife is to wear your hair parted in the middle, wear a fifty cent head light in your shirt buson chew long green tobacco. I hav all along the line and no from where I speak. The longer a man nose the more he lives. Say what you will you will always find mee willing and ready to help reduce the over production of ham and egg supply on the market. I dont think it makes much difference where a man is if he is broke. On the other hand if flush the cooling stations is the right place for him. The many friends of Mr. Stewart will regret to learn that since he went to Hot Springs, his condition has become very serious. A telegram from his physician caused Chief of Police C. T. Wilson to leave on Thursday to bring the afflicted man home. B. J. Peters accompanied him expecting to remain for a few weeks, but finding him so seriously sick decided to return. They left Hot Springs Saturday morning, taking a chair car to Little Rock. There a car was gotten and on it he was brought to this city. They arrived on Sunday's noon train.

Mr. Stewart's condition is very critical, his body being practically paralyzed and he takes but little notice of what goes on around him. He is extensively known here and in many parts of Kentucky and other states, where he has conducted stock sales—horses and fine cattle.

Facts and ObservationsON A TRIP TO MOREHEAD, OLIVE HILL, DENTON, AND ASHLAND.*MOREHEAD.

The writer had never spent Sunday in Morehead so availed himself of an opportunity and on Sunday boarded the 12:35 train. In the afternoon Prof. Buition and McDiarmid took the editor to the heights overlooking the town—Casto Button was the objective point. In the evening the writer preached at the Christian church. His remarks centered on the scripture; "We have not an high priest that cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities, etc."

On Monday morning he accepted an invitation to conduct chapel exercises at the Normal and to talk to the people. The Normal had never been so good and the subsequent days were more than thirty hours.

Rev. R. B. Neal arrived on Monday with 8 young ladies from Carter county; others are expected. In the evening Rev. Neal preached at the Christian church. He expressed a determination that the saloons of Rowan county must go, and he, with others, are perfecting plans for the accomplishment of this.

COURT POSTPONED.

Circuit Court was to have begun but was postponed until the June term because a case of small pox was reported from Christie Creek about 7 miles from town. We heard some objection to this decision. The objectors did not regard the situation as at all dangerous, and thought that such interests as attend a session of Court should not be interfered with.

Fraley & Clayton have sold to W. T. Clay their stock of general merchandise. Mr. Fraley, who has been Sheriff for three years, will continue to discharge the duties of his office. Mr. Clayton espouses to the Democratic nomination for County Judge.

Mr. Clay, the new proprietor, came from Texas about three months ago. He is a brother-in-law of Will A. Young.

CANDIDATES.

The time for Democratic primary has not been selected. The following are candidates:

For County Judge, Claude Clayton is said to be a candidate; Sheriff Davis Cauldell; County Attorney, Z. T. Young; Chas. E. Day; Jaller, W. L. Hudging; Assessor, W. T. Phelps; Cox; School Commissioner, Miss Clara Wilson; County Clerk, S. M. Parker and Frank White are talked of.

The Republican Primary was held March 2, and the following are the nominees: County Judge, Richmond Tussey; County Attorney, Charles Hiatt; County Clerk, C. P. Terrell; Jaller, Ed Allen; Assessor, James Stewart; School Commissioner, Emmett Mart; Coroner, Samuel Cornell.

OLIVE HILL.

On Tuesday we had two hours here but returned on Thursday.

The town, already of considerable commercial importance, is forcing to the front and by mid-summer will see great changes.

We met Mr. George Carlyle, General Manager of the Harbinson-Walker Co. This company is conspicuous as leaders in the fire clay industry in the United States. They had begun the erection of a large fire-brick plant. It will surpass the Olive Hill Fire Brick Co. Contractors are now putting up from 25 to 50 houses for the workers. Later we will give other items.

BANKS.

The prospect is encouraging for the organization of two banks.

The Olive Hill Bank has its vault and fixtures in place and expect to begin business on Monday, March 18th. We hear that W. J. Rice, of Morehead, is to be cashier. (We have requested further particulars.) The capital stock is $15,000.

The Olive Hill Deposit Bank has been organized with the following board of directors: R. A. Carpenter, Wm. Whitl, L. C. Wilson, Dr. Jno. L. Robbins, J. Garvin, H. Fuitt, Jas. S. Jarvis, of Carter county, and Sam Greene and Jno. Harper, of Elliott county. Capital stock is $15,000. They will erect a two story brick and hope to be ready for business in 60 days.

Prater & Walker have recently moved their stock of general merchandise from Saurbush and hope to be heard from in business circles.

Some of the young people will give an entertainment next week.

DENTON.

We had not visited the place since our courting days when we spent a Sunday here during a visit by the present Mrs. Trimble. We will now grow sentimental and go sailing among the stars in contemplating those days and the subsequent years of happiness. We can wish for our readers an equal blessing.

The enterprise of the valley is the business of this company, of which M. Cassidy, of Mt. Sterling, is President, and W. T. Tibbs Sec. and Treas. At present the working force is about 100 men. They have 14 children—of whom 11 still live. Their son, Andrew, aged 68, is a "father in Lawrence," having 19 children (no twins) all living. About 2 years ago all were at home.

Mr. Bailey has a small store near Denton.

Dr. H. W. Sparks is the only physician and has a fine practice.

RELIGIOUS.

There are two congregations—Methodist and Baptist. They hold services in the school house. The Baptists are at work on a building.

SICK.

Tude Gallion and James Yates are very sick with typhoid fever.

DEATHS.

Clay—On Wednesday morning we were at the coal tipple and saw the Weigh Boss, Chas. Clay, a strong young man, severely at work. Within a few hours he was instantly killed by a coal buggy turning over on him. He was 25 years old. He leaves a wife and two children. According to custom among miners, as soon as a death occurs, whether of a minor or of one of his family, every man at once quits work and does not resume until after the burial.

BROWNING—Mr. Browning, of Oveville, died on Tuesday night from lead-poison resulting from vaccination.

He was a coal miner, and was quite temperate. This condition is cheerfully made. We paid our respects to his widow and children. Our readers may think that all new paper men pay their way with "chink or pen music which is cheap." We would not get scared and run away if all hotels would exchange courtesies for white ups. We pay or offer to pay, quite deal—so having and then write our Facts and Observations.

We wish to say that the lawyer of the town is Jerome Duval, who is also a Notary Public and the agent for the Columbia Finance & Trust Co. in managing their thousands of acres of land, etc. He will excuse us for failing to ask him to subscribe for the Advocate, or to place an advertisement thereon.

DRAINS AND SANITATION.Ways and Means of Caring for the Public Health.

The basis of knowledge on which sanitation rests is furnished by the observation of facts on a large scale as they occur in actual life, says the Contemporary Review. Its aim has been the removal of conditions which experience has shown to be favorable to the propagation and spread of disease, and the substitution of other conditions. In general this means the removal of what we call dirt. Hence we get the purification of the ground by drainage, by refuse disposal, by impervious paving, and so on; the purification of drinking water by sedimentation and filtration, or by having recourse to unpolluted sources, deep wells and springs; the purification of food stuks by inspection, and the destruction of unwholesome articles; the purification of the air by ventilation and regulation, as to space; the purification of rivers by the diversion of polluting materials, and so on. Such is the line of activity, the aim being the improvement of the general conditions of life. It acts in two ways; it removes those agencies by which disease is fostered and spread and it promotes health, thereby rendering individuals less susceptible to such risks as they may encounter. Another measure must be added, of a different character—namely, the segregation of the sick as centers of infection; hence isolation, hospitals. But this movement was carried a very little way during the first period; its development belongs to the second, of which it is a very important feature. Twenty years ago isolation hardly existed; nobody went to the fever hospitals—there were scarcely any to go to; and the only infectious disease not received and treated in the general hospital was smallpox.

THE STUDY OF SUN SPOTS.An Astronomer Possesses the Possible Achievements in His Line.

"We can count," remarked Sir Norman Lockyer to a writer for The Strand, "upon the new century witnessing several most important achievements in the sphere of astronomy. To the progress of the science the most valuable contributions will probably be made in America, which now has more observers and better instruments than either England or Germany."

"The first of these achievements will, I think, enable us, by means of the spectra of sun spots, to forecast famines in India and droughts in Australia, as well as other important changes, a long time in advance. I have arrived at this conviction as the result of the work carried on in this observatory (South Kensington) since its establishment 25 years ago. We shall be able to predict not only the time, but the area and extent of drought and famine, thus rendering it possible to take timely precautions. This will certainly be an important addition to the practical service which astronomy renders to mankind."

Strong nerves. They are the fountain from which flows all the energy, all the strength and all the vital powers of the body. Strong nerves overcome the weaknesses and disorders of the system and give to the step a springiness, to the eye a brightness and to the mind a clearness that they can get from no other source. If you are tired and nervous, irritable, restless, run-down and sleepless, build up your worn-out nerves with

When we heard of Dr. Miles' Nervine we dropped all other treatment and began giving her that medicine, and the results were apparent from the start. DEATHS.

TUFTON.—The babe of Perry Tufton, of Plumb, Ky., died on Saturday, March 9, of diphtheria.

O'REAR.—After many days of intense suffering, Mrs. Sibba O'Rear departed this life on Wednesday morning at 4:30 o'clock, surrounded by her children and sister, Mrs. George Berkley, and watching friends. Mrs. O'Rear was a remarkable woman who made her life to meet the circumstances which had fallen to her. Left a widow with children to raise, she used her powers to make them men and women of the world would be proud. She labored faithfully, plowing the field, and to day, after years of toil, we can see results the ideal of a true and determined mother. The goal of her ambition was to see her youngest son one of the Judges of the Court of Appeals and when this came to pass, the good mother that she was, doubtless felt resigned to go home and be with the redeemed of God. In beautiful Machpelah, our city of the dead, rests another of earth's trust, in a grave to be remembered with flowers and watered with tears. Ah! who could refrain from weeping when a look backwards beholds the busy hands, aching limbs, the determined spirit for those God had given her for whom she gave her life; there the sun will shine brighter, the rain fall as on newly made hay. May her God, all grace with him almighty arms uphold the bereft family, keep them by his might and deliver them to the mother's God from whom none are able to take one of them.

Mrs. Sibba O'Rear, who died at Mt. Sterling, Ky., March 13, 1901, was born in what is now Rowan county, and at her death was in her 73d year. Her father, John Myneher, whose name indicates he was German stock, her mother (McKenzie) being English. Her husband, Daniel O'Rear, died in 1871, leaving to his widow five infant children and but little property. Of these children, the oldest, Hon. Leslie O'Rear, a lawyer of reputation and large practice, and Past Grand Commander of Knights Templar of Missouri, died in Marion, Mo., last June. The other four children survive her, viz: Prof. M. F. O'Rear, Superintendent of Schools, Oxford, Ind.; Judge Ed. C. O'Rear, of the Court of Appeals of Kentucky, and Misses Isa B. and Nancy. Mrs. O'Rear was a woman of unusual industry and perseverance, and possessed of an uncommon strong and clear judgment. To these qualities are her offspring indebted for such success and prosperity they have attained. She was from her youth a consistent member of the Methodist church. Her oldest brother, Maj. Gen. Jos. H. Lewis' Brigade of Confederates in the war of the States, and who served his community as Sheriff, Circuit Clerk, County Judge, member of the Legislature and Master Commissioner.

Pathetic Story of Young Wife's Suicide.

A tragic story developed at Cleveland, Ohio, in the suicide of Mrs. Grace Rogers. Last May her husband, Naylor Rogers, signed the following pledge:

"As God is my helper, I hereby promise on this day of our Lord, May 5, 1900, to henceforth abstain from the use of any intoxicating beverages. This I do for the happiness of Grace, my beloved wife, who loves me as she loves her life, and for the happiness of our unborn baby."

"NAYLOR ROGERS.

"Witness: George Rogers."

The pledge was broken. The heart of the wife and mother broke when she realized that her husband had not kept his promise.

HAPPY FOR A WHILE.

Naylor Rogers is thirty two years old. In Munson, Penn., he vowed and won pretty Grace Merritt three years ago. She was a school teacher, while he is a man of refinement and education. He had a good position with the National Bureau of Literature and Art. One day Rogers met convivial friends in Philadelphia. His home-coming proved to be the first cloud in the family sky. The young wife pleaded with her husband never again to drink. "Never again will this happen," said Rogers. But it did again and again. Then the woman asked for a written promise. He signed it.

A BROKEN PROMISE.

For a while all went well. Rogers was transferred to Cleveland. Soon a sunbeam entered the home. The mother named her baby "Hope." Her cup of joy was almost overflowing. Six months more went by. Hope cooed all day. Her mother sang. Monday afternoon of last week Rogers came home drunk. "Hail, Grace," he said, trying to steady himself, "how is little Hope."

"Hope" said the woman dreamily, "Hope is gone." The woman sat in silence beside her baby's cradle. The man threw himself on a couch and went to sleep. Later somebody was talking and he aroused himself. "My little Hope, good-bye," he heard his wife say. Then he opened his eyes. Kneeling by the baby's cradle was the mother. A moment later the woman fell to the floor. The husband rushed to his wife's side. "A broken promise," she whispered, then became unconscious. She had swallowed a big dose of morphine as she knelt by the cradle.
